

FOTF MEETING MAY 28, 2019 at Donna Riley's home

Present: Donna Riley, Emily Sherwood, Barb Healey, Toby Tarnow, Erin Farwell, Tatum and 3 children

Candle lit by Erin

Opening: from introduction to The Biodynamic Farm ; Karl- Ernst Osthaus read by Toby

Barb read the FOTF Mission

Purpose of Friends of the Farm (FOTF):
To encourage community among the Four Corners Cooperative family.

Examples include; organizing festivals, community dinners, work projects, fundraising, meals for farmers, recipes, classes, cooking groups, etc.

To encourage the spirit (philosophy) of the original farm organism as we move into the future. This includes and is not limited to: Biodynamics, farm members pledging to support our entire farm organism, (thus, separating money from the purchasing of food), and farm members gifting time, talents and treasure to support the farm organism.

Introduction of attendees: Who they are, how long members, what they love about the farm and what they would like additionally

Barb: Loves everything about the farm especially the BIODynamic aspect. She would like more veal, better cuts of meat, and better signage in the farm store.

Erin: Book author; new member as of June, 2019, friend of Brian Drayton, lives down the hill from the farm, grew up on a farm in Michigan. Her daughter is studying sustainability, wants to van tomatoes, has spoken to Benjamin about making yogurt from the farm milk, loves biodynamic process. Would like a contact of a member for new members. Wants to write profiles of the farmers and then members to post on the website. Would help to get to know our farm community/family. Suggested an App for Farm communication.

Toby: 30 year member. Wants to support the farm and the farmers, create more member involvement, farm as a model of sustainable agriculture and biodynamic farming to restore the soil and bring health and healing to the land and the community.

Donna: Doing what she loves supporting the farm in every aspect!

Tatum: Grew up in a Waldorf school. Home schools her children. Is onsite at the farm Tuesdays and her children work on the farm with the chickens and at Lincoln's Gaia school. Has been getting milk and produce for a member in MA. where she lives. This will be her first year as an official member, June 1, 2019.

Emily: is responsible for the land and farming at High mowing, met Jacob at the farm when she volunteered to milk. Wants to support the sustainability of the farm, the national CSA movement, educate and communicate outreach to the members.

There is a new butcher who will hang the meat and select better cuts, however we have dairy not beef cows.
